J. N. WISNER EXONERATED BY JURY IN UNITED STATES COURT

Suit Filed Against Him by Mrs. Emeline Gish, for $100,000 for Alleged Criminal Assault Falls—Plaintiff Failed to Corroborate.

ARGUED TO JURY AS BLACK MAILING SCHEME FOR MONEY.

Defendant Was Represented by E. J. Gex, of Bay St. Louis, and R. C. Cowan and Joseph Mize, of Gulfport. Fifteen Minutes to Argue.

Federal court at Biloxi Thursday was the scene of a trial of $100,000 damage suit in which J. N. Wisner, of Bay St. Louis, was the defendant.

Sometime during October of last year, Mrs. Emeline Gish, who, with her husband, sometime previously had been in the employ of Mr. J. N. Wisner on his home premises in mental capacity, filed this suit on the grounds that attempt criminal assault had been made while in his employ and at his place of domicile.

The trial occupied one full day. Court convened at 9 o'clock and at 10 o'clock the jury had been selected and the trial under full sway. At 10:20 that night the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Mr. Wisner was completely vindicated at the hands of the jury of the charge of assault. Mrs. Gish, the defendant, failed to substantiate allegations of declaration, while many witnesses who have known Mrs. Gish nearly all her life testified that her reputation for chastity was bad and that she did not bear the reputation of a woman of chaste character.

There were no witnesses who corroborated the testimony of the plaintiff. On the other hand there were a great number of witnesses, including some of the most prominent men of this community, testified as to the good character of Mr. Wisner and corroborated him in his testimony.

It was argued to the jury that the case was conceived and brought into court as a blackmailing scheme; to extort money from Mr. Wisner, believing that would pay a large sum of money rather than suffer the unusual notoriety that such a prosecution would bring.

The plaintiff and her husband were the only two to take the stand in behalf of the charge. There were a few character witnesses from Pass Christian, where the Gishes resided a short while.

One witness testified that Mr. Gish, the husband of the plaintiff, stated to him that he (Gish) was going to threaten Mr. Wisner with a law suit, and that he (Wisner) would pay a large sum of money before he would allow a case to be brought to court in order to avoid publicity; that he was a prominent man and had lots of money; and would pay almost any price to prevent a suit being brought against him.

Mrs. Gish was represented by Bowers & Bowers, of Gulfport, and Farrar & Wolfe, of New Orleans. Mr. Wisner was represented by Emile J. Gex, of Bay St. Louis, R. C. Cowan and Joseph Mize, of Gulfport. The case was hard fought on both sides and every effort that might bring bearing as to the result was exerted. Judge Clayton, of Alabama, was the presiding judge.

While no one who knows Mr. Wisner for a moment ever believed the story of the charges, yet there was a feeling of general satisfaction in the community yesterday morning when it was learned that he had won his case and that a jury had exonerated him of the allegations. No man stands higher and is more regarded and has more friends than J. N. Wisner. A resident here of some eight years, he has been best known for his liberal spirit, generosity of heart and his daily activities in all benevolent and charitable endeavors. A man who has been known for a character above reproach, representing ethically and in practice the accepted code of best morals.

In arguing to the jury the three attorneys for the defendant were only given fifteen minutes each. Mr. Wolfe was first for the plaintiff and was followed by Mr. Gex for the defendant. Mr. Gex was generally complimented for the able manner in which he handled his part of the case, reviewing the day's testimony in so short of time. A recess for supper followed. After this Messrs. Cowan and Mize followed with 15 minutes each. Mr. Bowers for the plaintiff consumed 30 minutes. This gave 45 minutes to lawyers of each side.

DEPLORABLE TRAGEDY ACROSS BAY FROM BAY ST. LOUIS

Nick Mooi, Keeper of the Kirby Place at the Mouth of the Jordan River, Was Shot and Instantly Killed by Man Named Raddock—Raddock Charges Mooi With Sending Black Hand Letter.

News reached Bay St. Louis Thursday morning that a killing had occurred across Bay St. Louis. It was learned that a man named Mooi, the keeper of the Kirby place, at the mouth of Wolfe river, had been shot and killed by a man named Raddock.

The Pass Christian Beacon of today's date gives the following account of the tragedy deplorable in the extreme. It says:

"A deplorable tragedy occurred just north of the city limits on Wednesday evening last about 6 o'clock when Nick Mooi, keeper of the Kirby place, at the mouth of Wolfe river, was shot and killed by a man named Raddock, carrying in one hand a jar of milk and in the other a can of syrup which he was bringing to the Raddock family, as he had on numerous occasions brought milk and other gifts to the house so it is generally stated. Mooi drove up in his auto truck to the gate and proceeded in the Raddock yard and with both hands engaged in carrying the milk and syrup, Raddock was in the house and from behind a screen door in the front of the house he shot Mooi without warning, using a double barrel shotgun loaded with turkeys shot, striking his victim with the full load about the mouth and neck, tearing away a large portion of the man's face. Mooi falling forward dead almost instantly.

Immediately after the killing Raddock came to town and gave himself up, admitting the killing, and apparently feeling justified in his act.

He was taken to the county jail at Gulfport to await a preliminary trial.

Raddock, it is reported, suspected Mooi of being the author of an alleged Klu Klux letter which he claims to have received a few days ago, in which he (Raddock) was warned to leave this vicinity under threat of dire punishment. On Tuesday Raddock filed charges against Mooi for the alleged threat, but the papers had never been served, and it is said Mooi was not aware that any papers had been issued, nor had any reason to suspect an attack as he and his family and the Raddock family were apparently close friends and frequent visitors to each others homes.

The Raddock family has been residents of this city for the past 15 years and Raddock has never been in any serious trouble. He has a wife and five small children and appeared to be an industrious man.

Nick Mooi came to Pass Christian about 15 years ago also. He was a hard working, industrious man, and for a long number of years he was in the employ of Dr. Farham, and for the past five years has been in charge of W. R. Kirby's place on Wolf River. His wife died about a year ago leaving an infant baby and five other small children. By all who knew Mooi he was regarded as a good man, never in any trouble, and had a splendid reputation for honesty.

Since the tragedy there are many rumors for its cause, the authenticity of which remains to be established in the trial. G. B. Adam has been retained by Raddock to defend him, but no time has been as yet fixed for the preliminary examination.

Mr. Mooi's funeral took place from the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon at 3:30, the services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Roberts and the remains were interred in Live Oak Cemetery.

Proposal Made to Build Biloxi Pier.

J. H. Etter, Biloxian, has placed before the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce a plan for the erection of a public pier in Biloxi, which he believes will be a boon to the city as a tourist resort. A committee to cooperate with the Biloxi Rotary Club in the matter is composed of J. E. Breaux, Jr., Mr. Etter and Mr. Lewis Braun. Plans are being discussed to entertain fifty delegates from Zion Commandery, Knights of Templar of Minneapolis, Minn., who will pass through Biloxi next month enroute to New Orleans for their annual encampment. The local chapter will also cooperate with the Rotary Club in entertaining delegates to the inter-city meet held here May 15th.

Mrs. Rupert Wentworth, accompanied by her family, has called on Bay St. Louis from her home in Hattiesburg, Miss., by the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. Thomas J. Conway.

HISTORIC SHIP SUNKEN IN MUD OF BILOXI BAY HAS TREASURE

Is Belief of Veterans Fisherman Who Claimed Veisels' Relics Still Mope that Treasure Awaits Divers, May Have Been Pirate Craft.

(By A. V. Ragusin in N. O. Item.)

In the Back Bay of Biloxi, near the mouth of Bayou Poteau, in the mud about eight feet below the surface lies what was once one of the ships of the first colonists. The vessel had been sunk there over 100 years before it was discovered.

It was in the summer of 1893 that Captain Eugene Tibbler, Jr., descendant of one of the earliest French families of Biloxi, saw it in clear water. Paddling up and down in his skiff he saw cannons on a deck. Some days later a party of 14 aboard a small schooner, went to the spot to find what they could. Captain Tibbler was in charge of the expedition.

Four cannons from the deck, now in the yard of Captain Tibbler, were brought up, smooth and in fine condition. Indeed, they were thought at first to be made of bronze. Two of them are about six feet in length; the other two are about four feet long. It was no easy job getting the balls up by tying them, under the water, but more than 50 were recovered. Captain Tibbler believes there are several hundred more lying around the ship.

Old time cutlasses and swords were also found on the decks. These swords were lost in 1893 shortly after the expedition, when a storm swept the gulf coast. At that time the swords were at the home of Captain Eugene Tibbler, Sr., on the bay, and were swept away. It is possible, however, that someone took them while the storm was raging.

This is the only trip to the wreck. Meanwhile, the schooner, which is twin decked, is sinking in the mud. Both Tibblers, father and son, believe that the boat is one of Iberville type, but some think it is a pirate vessel used by some outlaw of the sea in times before the American independence. Possibly the pirate boat chased by some sloop of war, took refuge in the Back Bay, they say. Old residents say that pirate vessels entered Back Bay in the old days, as it was only a short distance from outlying islands.

However, Captain Tibbler clings to the belief that the sunken vessel was once used by Iberville. Cannons on a pirate boat, he declares, were unusually firmly bound to the sides of the vessel, whereas, these cannons were on traveling carriages. All that was necessary to get them from the deck was to tie a rope around it. Another point in favor of Captain Tibbler's statement is that the first wreck, which Iberville and his men erected upon landing here, was located a short distance from the old sunken ship. Captain Tibbler thinks that Iberville was bringing the cannon and balls to the fort.

Too, the vessel could have been that of an explorer, who took refuge from either pirates or a storm.

Asked if he believed that there was a treasure on the ship, Captain Tibbler smiled: "Sure, I believe there is," he said, "but it will take some trouble to get it."

He said that the valuables are in a safety box, in the captain's room, below the first deck. The fishermen say that when the first expedition was made one of the party said he saw a chest on the deck. However, it was never found. Captain Tibbler would like to go down again in a diving uniform and make a thorough examination. But it takes money for such an expedition.

Card of Thanks to the Parent-Teachers' Association.

We, the teachers of Hancock County, take this method of thanking the ladies who served luncheon to the teachers of Hancock County in their meeting last Saturday, March 4th. The ladies, among whom were: Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, Mrs. R. W. Webb, Mrs. L. Eagan, Mrs. Geo. C. Firsching, Mrs. Emile J. Gex, Miss Miriam Engman, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association spread before the teachers a dinner that would have been hard to surpass by any town or community. In fact, it was enjoyed by all present, and the influence of this organization has gone out to every corner of the county and will not doubt be an incentive to those in other sections to organize and operate an auxiliary to their schools to take care of the needs of the schools on occasions like the one above mentioned.

LAST MEETING 1921-22 SESSION of the Hancock County Teachers' Association Held in Bay St. Louis, Saturday, March 4th.

The Hancock County Teachers' Association met for the last sitting for the 1921-1922 term.

The association has had five meetings during this school year, all of which have been intensely interesting and beneficial. In addition to our work as a whole (morning sessions) in which many vital and interesting subjects have been ably discussed. We have had departmental work for the teachers of different grades. In this work each group adopted a suitable textbook for the teachers of their respective grades, and under a competent leader studied those books and exchanged helps and ideas on their methods of teaching.

At our last meeting after the invocation by Dr. Featherston the teachers were welcomed to Bay St. Louis in a well chosen address by Miss Clara Kergosien to which Miss Sancier of Sellers responded in a few well chosen words.

Hon. C. L. Walker then addressed the association on "The Range and Deflection of a Teacher." He pointed out some of the hardships and inconveniences of being a school teacher, after which he called attention to some of the political evils of Mississippi and emphasized the fact that the only remedy for these were through the education of the rising generations against such evils. His speech was appreciated by all present.

After dispensing with the business for the day the association adjourned for lunch.

The ladies of Bay St. Louis had prepared an excellent lunch for us. After lunch Prof. B. F. Ferguson, of Dedaux, paid a splendid tribute to the ladies for their kind hospitality.

After several other splendid talks by different ones present the toastmaster suggested a toast to our Co. Supt. of Education and asked Prof. S. P. Powell to deliver it. Prof. Powell in well chosen words told how our superintendent had endeavored to build up our school system to a standard which we ought to attain.

He called attention to the number of consolidated schools in the county to give an equal opportunity with the city children and how Mr. Keller had striven with untiring energy to build up and maintain our public schools. He also pointed out the improvement in the association and ultimately to teachers and schools, as a result to our efficient superintendent's untiring efforts.

In Mr. Keller's response to this toast, he didn't take the credit to himself for all the improvement as no great man would, but gave the credit to the teachers of the county for their cooperation in the work. But as a reply to that Mr. Keller is not very enthusiastic over a teacher who does not try to better himself or herself and the schools of the county. Who blames him? He is an enthusiastic worker himself, and does his best to procure that kind of teachers, and the writer thinks he succeeds better than some superintendents who have a higher assessed valuation, and consequently more money to work with. However, Mr. Keller is untiring in trying to raise money to pay his teachers a fair salary.

Let's hope that next year will mark still further improvement in our schools. They are the salvation of our great country.

D. J. EVERETT,
President Hancock County Teachers' Association.

RIGHT FOWLS FOR BREEDING

Hens Are Preferable to Pullets as They Lay Larger Eggs—Free Range Is Favored.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
If cockerels or pullets are used in the breeding flock they should be well matched. Poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture advise, Hens are better than pullets. They lay larger eggs which produce stronger chicks. Yearling and two-year-old hens are better than older ones. Pullets need as breeders should be mated with a cock rather than with a yearling. If a cockerel is used he should be mated with hens rather than with pullets. As a rule, well-matched cockerels will give better results than cocks.

When possible, free range should be provided for the breeding stock. If a better method of raising the chicks is desired, the best method is to raise them on a range.

DUCK RAISING IS PROFITABLE

Peking Are Most Popular Breed for Production of Meat and Runners for Eggs.

Although ducks do not appear to be as well adapted as chickens as a source of income to average farm conditions, yet many farmers are finding duck raising profitable as a side issue to their other farm operations. The demand for table ducks in the cities seems to be on the increase.

The period of incubation for ducks is 28 days, except for the Muscovy duck, which is 33 to 35 days. The eggs may be hatched either naturally by hens or ducks or artificially in incubators. Strong, fertile eggs are a prime essential to good hatching and are obtained only from stock properly mated and kept under the best possible conditions to secure health and vigor. Eggs from overcast breeding stock do not usually produce a large percentage of strong ducklings. Peking and Indian Runner ducks rarely set; consequently, if natural methods of incubation are to be used the eggs are usually hatched under hens. Duck eggs should be washed if dirty, for it does not appear to injure their hatching qualities.

Before setting a hen dust her thoroughly with insect powder. In applying this powder hold the hen by the feet with her head hanging down and work it thoroughly into the feathers, giving special attention around the vent and under the wings. Sitting hens should be fed whole or cracked grains, such as corn or wheat. Place 9 to 11 duck eggs under a hen, depending on her size and the season of the year, using the smaller number of eggs in cold weather and the larger number in warm weather. Commence the hens at hatching time and do not disturb them until they become restless, when it may be best to remove the ducklings that hatched first.

CITY ECHOES.

Miss Mary Houston, who has been the guest of Mrs. C. G. McDonald, in Main street, has returned to her home in Nashville, Tenn. Many beautiful entertainments were given in compliment to Miss Houston, the series brought to a close last Saturday afternoon when Mrs. W. A. McDonald, always a most gracious hostess, entertained at the family home on the beach front.

The colored labor for the Independent Paving Company, contractors for the paving of Main street, have gone on a strike for more wages, and in consequence the work has stopped. The men were employed at 20 cents per hour for 8-hour day over which they wish a considerable advance. Supt. Apple says unless the men show a disposition to return to work Monday morning his company will have to import labor from away. The men struck when the first batch of material was going into the mixer and ready to pour on the street.

—LOST—On Wednesday, in the streets of Bay St. Louis one sable neck piece. Reward if returned to Mrs. Penrose, P. O. Box 497, Bay St. Louis.

—Mrs. A. B. Frost, of Indianapolis, Ind., has come to Bay St. Louis to spend a few weeks with her son, Mr. B. B. Frost, in Washington St., and his family and to be with friends in New Orleans before her return home.

—Messrs. W. A. McDonald, E. Van Whitfield, Leo W. Seal, George C. Firsching, John Beuhler, C. G. Moreau, Mayor R. W. Webb, Chief of Police Albert Jones, Dr. H. S. Lewis attended Federal Court at Biloxi Thursday.

—Mr. Jean P. H. Magne, resident of Cedar Point, accompanied by Messrs. George R. Rea and Jno. Osinaich, appeared before the federal court in Biloxi Wednesday, and applied to become an American citizen. He is a subject of France. A consulting chemical engineer, he came to New Orleans from Havana in 1916, and to Bay St. Louis in April, 1920.

—Mrs. Beyer came out from New Orleans Saturday and spent the day with her mother, Mrs. Casimir Fayard in State Street, who, on that day celebrated her 81st birthday.

—Mr. W. A. McDonald is spending the week-end with friends in Mobile.

—Quite a delegation will arrive in Bay St. Louis tomorrow, representing the Atlanta Baseball Team, accompanying friends and newspaper men. These gentlemen will be quartered at the Klock Hotel, which has been leased for this purpose. Unable to find quarters Mayor Webb has taken over the hotel premises and will operate it for the men in order that they may be accommodated. The Echo is pleased to learn of the continued improvement in the condition of Manager Charley Frank, who has been critically ill. He is able to be up and about his home.

Mrs. F. H. Mattox, who has been visiting her daughters at Atlanta, Ga., was called to Bay St. Louis during the early part of the week by the illness and subsequent death of her sister, Mrs. Thos. J. Conway.

—FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red Eggs $2.00 per setting.

MRS. J. A. EVANS.

—As will be seen from the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, which appear elsewhere in this issue of The Echo, that body and the State Highway department, have agreed to extend the paving work of Main street from its present limit, Touline St., out to Nicaise avenue, and along Front street from the south side of Mauffray store north passed State street and to a point about halfway to the Tulane Hotel, where the new ferry landing will be located. This extension was originally actuated by Mayor R. W. Webb, acting for the city's interests. Thanks to the Board of Supervisors' progressive and friendly disposition, which will give the city so much paved streets. Automobile tax money defrays the expense.

—Mrs. C. G. McDonald has gone on a visit to Texas in the interest of the college sorority she represents and will visit her parents at Nashville, Tenn., before returning home in April.

—Mrs. George R. Rea was hostess last Saturday afternoon to a reception and tea from 4 to 6 at her home in Washington street, in compliment to her house guest, Miss Kate Rea, of Wesson, Miss., and Mrs. Power's guest, Mrs. John Davis, of St. Louis. This was one of the larger receptions of the season and one of the most beautiful ones. Miss Evelyn Lacoste sang several selections, Mrs. Villere gave accompaniment; Miss Jean Hamilton, with Horton, accompanist, also rendered several vocal numbers, while Armstrong with the orchestra of the violin added to the musical program.

The following unique and beautiful message was received from their children and grandchildren, at New Orleans, which is herewith published:

New Orleans, La., Mar. 4, 1922.

With continued Health and Happiness each succeeding year;

May the surroundings be always Pleasing and Mirthful to you, Thus insuring against your feeling Blue.

JOHN, VIRGIE AND GRANDSON.
To Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Franz, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

—Miss Kate Rea, of Wesson, Miss., reached here during the latter part of last week, and is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. G. R. Rea, and family, at their home in Washington street, to remain for an indefinite period. Although only here a short while, Miss Rea has already been the recipient of quite a number of social attentions.

BAY ST. LOUIS HIGH SCHOOL.

Basketball.

Last Friday afternoon the first and second boys team accompanied by "Duke" O'Bryan, Elize Toquey, Anita Jordy, Luvurina Saucier and Miss Pearson went to the Pass for two games.

We were cordially received by the students and faculty of the High School, ushered into their beautiful new brick building and shown thru the different departments.

The first team of the Bay won as the score was 15-15 in favor of the Bay team. We lost the game between the second teams.

Our wide-awake first team, full of life and pep, gave the Pass boys a good game last Wednesday afternoon on the home court. The score stood 26-17 in favor of the Bay Hi.

The boys second team also came from Pass Christian and were defeated by the Bay Second Team, the score being 15-4 in favor of the Bay boys.

We regret to state that we suffered a defeat by the Webb school at the High School. Not a field goal was thrown by either team. Boo! Hoo!

That one point made by the Webb school was our Waterloo. A very delightful feature of the evening was the social hour that followed the games, in which hot chocolate was served to the boys by the girls of the high school.
